

Your website is not a brochure. It is your hardest-working salesperson. The Redesign Playbook is the self-guided system behind MK Parrish's website work: audit a slow, dated, or off-brand site across performance, clarity, mobile, and conversion, then rebuild it in the right order — message first, structure second, design third, speed last. Includes the four-part audit, the page architecture, the mobile-first and conversion principles, and a full launch checklist for a site that finally earns its keep.

A step-by-step system for rebuilding a website that is slow, dated, or no longer sounds like your business — done yourself.
