COVER LETTER · SALES REPRESENTATIVE, HRO COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES

YOU KEEP CONTROL. ADP CARRIES THE WORK.

Dear Evan,

> Most owners I meet on Long Island are stuck between two bad options: run payroll, benefits and HR themselves on software, or hand their people to a PEO. Comprehensive Services is the third way, and I'd like to be the one who shows them it exists.

I'm applying for the Sales Representative, HRO Comprehensive Services role because I understand what it sells, and I'm the motivated, consultative, competitive seller the posting describes. Comprehensive Pay, Benefits, HR and Talent put ADP specialists on the work an owner's staff carries today, from payroll tax and audits to open enrollment, carrier invoices, compliance and hiring, all on Workforce Now, with a strategic advisor and regular business reviews. The client keeps its own plans and its own decisions. That's a service sale, sold on the hours, risk and turnover it removes, not on price per employee.

It's also the sale I make every day at Mercedes-Benz of Smithtown, where I run the full cycle and win on the value of what's included, not the sticker. Before that, I learned the HR and benefits buyer at Mercer with CHROs and Fortune 50 leaders; raised enterprise win rates 15% and cut sales cycles 30% at Ericsson on the way to $200M+ in influenced revenue; and closed multimillion-dollar partnerships with Sony, Warner Bros. and Google at DEFY Media.

How I'd build the business:

- Start where I'm trusted. Through the Long Island Builders Institute I'm working with builders and subcontractors: multi-site crews, union and prevailing-wage payroll, and constant hiring.
- Sell top-down, consultatively. The owner hears hours and risk, the CFO hears cost and control, the HR leader hears relief. Then I recommend the mix of HR, payroll, benefits and talent that fixes it, and turn the win into referrals.
- Work the whole ADP network. AI-driven research and multi-channel outreach (32% reply rates) for new logos, plus fast follow-up on warm leads from marketing and channel partners, and cross-sells with ADP colleagues into current clients.

I wrote out the full plan, including the four bundles, the buyers, discovery questions, objections and my first 90 days, at mkparrish.com/adp. I'd welcome 20 minutes to walk you through it.

Thank you,

Mary Kate Parrish
